France

Three historical buildings on the grounds of the Palace of Versailles are being turned into a hotel next year, and we are très heureux about it. The forthcoming hotel will have 14 rooms and apartments (which boast views of the orangery) as well as a spa and indoor pool, plus a restaurant by chef Mr Alain Ducasse. As an added perk, guests will get VIP access to the Palace of Versailles, along with its famous Hall of Mirrors.

18. Paragon 700 Boutique Hotel and Spa, Puglia, Italy

Paragon 700 Boutique Hotel and Spa is the only red Palazzo in the heart of the White City, Ostuni (so it'll be a cinch to spot it on arrival). Set to open in February 2020, the Puglian property boasts 11 individually decorated rooms (we're obsessed with the Paragon Suite), a lush garden and swimming pool.

19. Six Senses Fort Barwara, Rajasthan, India

Just a three-hour drive from Jaipur is the transformed 14th-century fort soon to be known as Six Senses Fort Barwara. The 5.5-acre site was originally home to the Rajasthani royal family and is comprised of three original palaces and two temples. Taking over what was once one of the palaces will be an Ayurvedic spa, which will offer a wellness programme that includes meditation classes.
