Its remote location within the 50,000-hectare, malaria-free Lapalala Wilderness Reserve, makes it an ideal spot for a socially distanced stay, while 100 per cent of any financial gains made by the camp are reinvested back into the reserve for the benefit of wildlife, conservation and the local community.

Lepogo Lodges is also the first luxury camp in Africa to offset the carbon footprint of every visiting guest, from the time they leave their home to the moment they return.
