Exclusive Travel Tips According to Experts

Unsatisfied wanderlust looms large as lockdowns continue to hamper leisure travel. While satisfying one's desire to travel has largely been put on pause, this has not suspended the travel industry's efforts to create change and adapt in a speedy fashion which has resulted in an increase in consumer confidence and anticipation for post-pandemic travel. With this in mind, now is

Oliver's Travels two Co-Founders Oliver Bell and Ravi Sabharwal

Ravi Sabharwal, Co-Founder at Oliver's Travels – "I will be visiting France again next year. My family were able to head off for a brilliant week at our exclusive Chateau Le Brun this July. I have confidence we will be able to return to another similarly quirky and wonderful abode at some point next peak season. I would encourage travelling with Eurotunnel Le Shuttle as we were able to travel quickly, safely and observing social distancing measures."

Paragon 700

"In 2021 we hope to be able to travel to Asia. We love the Asian culture, food and the quality of accommodation. It is somewhere that we can refuel on design inspiration. The need for quarantine won't stop us, we will keep travelling as much as the restrictions will allow us and encourage others to do the same where they safely can. We would advise people to consider Puglia as a destination for the year ahead. It offers plenty of space, two amazing seas and so much more. Here and other destinations that are not overcrowded such as Australia or the Alps."

Edip Ilkbahar, CEO at Hillside Leisure Group, which owns Hillside Beach Club in Fethiye.

Where do you plan to travel in 2021 and why? "I am planning to travel to Puglia in Italy abroad, apart from my local travel plans to the Aegean coast of Turkey, where also our renowned resort Hillside Beach Club is located. I visited Puglia a while ago and want to go back as there is still a lot to discover. I love the
